Conditions on Upward Trend in Pittsburg District

PITTSBURG, Oct. 25.—Conditions among industrial plants of McKeesport, Clairton and Duquesne are "looking up," according to information from authoritative sources. At the National Tube company's big McKeesport plant yesterday, an official said that indications pointed to greater business, though there had been no radical change in operation. The plant has been working better than 50 per cent for months and a few weeks ago the working hours were increased.

At the Carnegie steel works, Duquesne, where work is reported to be 70 per cent of capacity, the men have recently been given additional hours of work. At the Carnegie company's Clairton works all but a few departments are working and there is a feeling that the steel business is "picking up" slowly, but with certainty. This plant has been out of idle for several weeks.

The McKeesport Tinplate company this week put on your more mills than were in operation last week. At some of the plants, the number of workers has been increased.

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 25.—The Youngstown mills of the Carnegie Steel company are now operating six days a week instead of five as during the summer. Steel production is reported as upwards of 70 per cent. Four blast furnaces in the Ohio works group are producing hot metal.

Meeting of Chief of Italian Army and Chief Displayman Of Local Fireworks Company.

By John L. Gans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Leave to Connellsville to find a place in the spotlight in important events, no matter what part of the country they may happen.

True to tradition, in this respect, the meeting last night of General Diaz, chief of the Italian army, and Patrick Lanza of Connellsville, chief displayman of the American-Italian fireworks company of Dunbar.

While he and "Tony" Butch were roving about the streets during the evening dinner hour they passed the dining room of the Willard where General Diaz and his aids, resplendent in the full uniform of their rank, formed a party of one of the tables.

"You ought to go in and meet the general," Pat said. Tony, half banteringly, Pat demurred at such a bold undertaking, but Tony urged that a meeting of the two chiefs was entirely proper. In fact, he knew General Diaz would be disappointed if it did not take place.

Finally Pat consented to do his part on condition that Tony guard the en-

Practically all plans have been completed for the Hallowe'en celebration to be held here Friday evening under the auspices of the West Side Volunteer fire department. Replies to invitations to join in the parade have been received from several organizations with the word that they will be here for the number's pageant.

There seems to be more interest in Hallowe'en this season than in many years. An indication of this are the many parties being held, and some of them several weeks in advance of the Hallowe'en week. There is a big demand for costumes and make-up materials.

Judges have been named by the men and these will be stationed at various places along the line of parade. There will be two judges to decide the winner of every prize and checks will be paid the day following the celebration.

A few prizes have been added to the list. For the largest number of children from one school room in the $10 will be given. The second prize is $5.

For the most unique costume $4 will be given. There will be a big field of contestants for this event as the prize winner may be either the most plainly or most elaborately costumed number on the streets.

Persons owning automobiles and trucks, who intend to decorate the machines and enter the parade are requested to call at Legion headquarters and leave their names. The committee is desirous of getting a line on the number of machines to be cared for in the parade.

Firemen will assist the police in protecting the merry-makers from traffic dangers. Crawford avenue will be a big pavilion of fun when traffic is closed from the bridge to Brimstone corner, the white surface making a level floor.

THE Red Men's organization from Uniontown will be the biggest representative body from the county seat. There will be many delegations from nearby towns.

Work on the decoration of the armory for the military hall will begin on November 9.

BEER RULING SURPRISE TO DRY LEADERS

Could Not Be Withheld, Statement of Secretary Mellon.

FIGHT TO BE RENEWED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Bear as a medicinal enjoys a full legal status today through unexpected action of the Treasury Department in promulgating regulations postponing its use for that purpose, issued in accordance with an opinion submitted by former Attorney General Palmer last March 3, holding the medicinal use of beer to be legal under the prohibition laws, and after being withheld in anticipation of action by Congress on the pending anti-beer measure, announcement of the beer regulation came as a complete surprise to prohibition leaders.

In making known their prohibition Secretary Mellon said the department was unable to withhold the regulations longer in view of the "plain legal rights of the parties concerned."

Predicting an immediate reaction to the Treasury announcement in the direction of increased pressure to effect enactment of the anti-beer bill, dry advocates in and out of Congress did not conceal their disapproval of the department's action.

The work was started at the junction with the McCoy Spring road.

Mr. Shaw Improving.

Mr. Arthur G. Shaw, who underwent an operation a week ago at the Uniontown hospital, is getting along well and hopes to be home in a few days.

SISTER
SOISSON-CARROLL WEDDING
INTERESTING SOCIETY EVENT

The Soisson-Carroll wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Soisson, father of Miss Soisson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Soisson of West Peach street, and John Francis Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carroll of Portage, Wis., to be solemnized tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception church. Nuptial high mass will be celebrated by Rev. John T. Burns. Miss Soisson will be attended by Miss Anna Douttley of bridgefield, and Lawrence McCrory of Portage, Wis., will serve as Mr. Carroll's best man. The ceremony at the church will be followed by a wedding breakfast at the Soisson home. Guests for thirty-five, including the immediate members of the two families, will be laid. Among the out-of-town guests who are here for the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carroll; parents of the bridegroom-elect of Portage, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Donovan of Menasha, Ill., and Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Holden and daughter, Miss Catherine, the endocrinologist of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil J. Soisson gave a lively and brilliant dance last evening in the Music Hall in honor of Miss Soisson and her fiance. The dance was exquisitely appointed and was one of the most charming social functions of the season. The decorative scheme, in keeping with Hallowe'en, was a combination of the dance. Fall colors predominated and never, in the hall, presented a more beautiful appearance. Adding brilliancy to the scene was the handwoven gowning of the women. The windows were artistically draped with orange, tan and black and in the center there were ears of corn and clusters of beautifully tinted autumn leaves. Great bunches of leaves blending from yellow into the deep shades of russet and red, and bunches of corn heads were attractively arranged between the windows and in the four corners of the room. The lights were adorned with orange and black and from the center light unique pumpkin faces, in which candles were concealed, were suspended. The dimly shaded lights throughout the hall cast a soft glow upon the dancers. Festoonings of orange and black were strung across the ball. Clyde E. Huse had charge of the decorations, which showed a work of art. A buffet luncheon was served. Out of town guests were from Washington, D. C., Greenlawn, Pittsburg and Dawson.

The last event preceding the marriage ceremony was a beautifully appointed bridge party given this afternoon by Mrs. Homer Burcham of Uniontown; at the Uniontown Country Club in honor of Miss Soisson and her sister, Mrs. Rupert Donovan of Menasha, Ill., cousins of the bride. Following the games, a delicious luncheon was served. Among the out-of-town guests from a distance were Misses Catherine and Celeste Holden of Washington, D. C.

Party for Miss Fagan. A delightful surprise party was held last evening in the office building of the West Penn Railway Company in honor of Miss Margaret Fagan, who has resigned as stenographer for T. B. Donnelly, chairman, becoming effective October 21. Miss Fagan will leave for Weston, W. Va., to make her home with her aunt, Miss Sally McGary. Hallowe'en appointments were cleverly carried out and the evening was enjoyably spent at dancing and games. Fifty girls appeared in Uniontown costumes. There was a cake walk and Miss Fagan was awarded the prize. She was also presented with a beautiful leatherpurse as a farewell gift. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Earl Williamson of Carrollton, O., formerly Miss Mary Captain.

Engagement Announced. Mr. and Mrs. George Steele of Uniontown announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Louise Steele, to Roger House of Point Marion. The wedding will take place early in November.

Aid Society to Meet. A meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian Church will be held tomorrow afternoon in the church.

Eastern Star Dance. The Eastern Star Chapter of the Consolite Chapter Order of the Eastern Star will hold a masquerade dance Thursday evening in the state dormitory. The hall will be handsomely decorated and the dance promises to be one of the leading social functions of the season.

Farewell Party. The home of Mrs. Amelia E. Brooks at Normalville was the scene of a delightful farewell gathering Sunday. The occasion was in the form of a reunion, all of Mrs. Brooks' children and their families being present at noon. A chicken dinner was served twenty-five being seated around the large table. Mrs. Brooks has lived on the farm all her life, she and her husband, Elwin E. Brooks, deceased, having taken it over at her father's death. She will move into her new home in Connellsville November 1. Members of the family present were Earl

Hard Work Wins

By S. W. STRAUSS
President American Society for Thrift

Perhaps the chief lesson to be learned from a study of economic conditions in Europe today is that the principal safeguard of national stability, progress and happiness is hard work.

What all humanity needs is the spirit of willing work. This may seem somewhat anomalous statement when we think of the hundreds of thousands of workers who are idle in this country today, but American unemployment is only a passing phase of the economic situation. The fact still remains that progress is based very largely on man's willingness to work.

These observations are made after a period of seven weeks spent in a study of European conditions where the root of disorder undoubtedly consists of a somewhat widespread unwillingness to get down to the brass tacks of hard work. One sees in Europe too much of a tendency to spin out jobs so that for a few months are paid for what one man easily should earn too much dependence on the government to provide the necessities of life without a corresponding willingness to work for them, and to greater a tendency to baffle over conditions and demand the final nothing.

This does not mean that all the workmen who are idle abroad are in that condition from choice. The voluntary idleness of one group of men often causes the involuntary idleness of many others, and work for one section of labor often means work for many more. There are said to be 2,000,000 men idle in the building trades in the United States today and it is safe to assert that if all these men could secure employment it would not be many days until every working man in America who desired a job could get it.

Idleness also has a deteriorating effect on morale. The happiest people are those who work, the unhappiest are those who are idle whether it be voluntary or enforced. Of the sum total of unemployed in Europe some of it is unnecessary and is the direct result of governmental actions. The spirit of hard work is necessary to human happiness and social progress, and any nation that attempts to solve its economic problems by any other means is ten parts less in a position of help to us all failed.

A Note to the Machinery Owners of Europe:
Buy more now, live hard or die that you may have more to buy and that you may buy more but it will make little difference. What is that but a half plan?

As for us,
pitchers, drivers,
holders of belts, tankers, etc., we must be built up to face what is likely to be next element all on November 19.

As for the State of the Nation and its future prospects it has something to do with our part.

Just Folks

"WHOIGOGAT IT ALL DAY
My chores have just been taken care of I hope I'm going to be around now what's the world that it leaves to do but go to bed and sleep the rest of the world to know, and the rest to the rest of the world to do

On the other hand a world with the horrors of the recent experience seems to be around and staggering under the load of debt and armaments, has generously misled our hope for a favorable attitude toward the practical efforts of the sincere, benevolent and idealistic.

To undertake the impossible and fall might have been just as wise as this our first impression of the nations we unite confidence that we will not fail, but rather that substantial results will be accomplished on condition that we can make it easier for the world to do the rest of the world to do

So the dream is over and the dream is over.

Never had such a world seen within the walls where he did not dwell.

Now all the people he loved as well as he did and he was brave and true and of them remaining the land he knew.

EPSOM SALTS LIKE LEMONADE

If you want all the splendid physickation of a dose of epsom salts with the awful taste and disagreeable taste of a handily package of "Epsomade Salts" which is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivatives, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade. Try it when bilious, headache or constipated. Costs but a few cents.

Canning! Don't just ask for "instant" "salts" or you may get a bad imitation. Always ask for "Epsomade Salts" and look for the name, American Epsom Association—Advertiblent.

How Strange Things Sometimes Happen

I want to write you to let you know that I have taken more doses of Mr. Wunderful Reineis, and have taken 16 pounds in the last two weeks although I am thinner around the waist than before because the bloating in my stomach has all gone. I am feeling like a boy again. There never was anything in this world half as good as this medicine. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the bacteria, prevents the intestinal tract and relieves the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convalesce or money refunded. A. A. Clarke and druggists everywhere. Advertisements.

PASTORS OF FOUR STATES UNITED IN THEIR PRAISE

Four Ministers, Though from Different Parts of the Country, Have the Same Attitude With Regard to Nerv-Worth.
They Write Letters Recommending It and These Letters Offer Indisputable Evidence.

Nerv-Worth gives real results and is a real medicine. It does not act as a mere stimulant, nor depends upon alcoholic stimulation to produce results. The ministers whose letters are reproduced below have tested Nerv-Worth and found that it is really a preparation of highest merit, and because they know that it gives results and has real medicinal value, they recommend it to others. Nothing could be more convincing than a group of statements from gentlemen of the cloth. Read what they say:

Rev. Mr. Tute, Pauline Ave., Dayton, Ohio.
"For five years I was in a very nervous condition," said Rev. Tute, "I couldn't find any relief. It seemed, until I took a bottle of Nerv-Worth. I didn't have any nerve force to digest my food, I could eat only a few things.
I was advised by my doctors not to eat any cold lunches. Gas would form in my stomach and cause terrible bloating.
My blood was also in very bad condition, and my circulation poor.
My legs would get cold and numb, and my hands would also get the same way. I am now nervous no more, and I can eat anything at any time. My stomach and digestion are in fine condition.
I have no more bloating, my circulation is good and there is no numbness and cold feeling in my legs and hands.
I am feeling fine, and have regained my health and vigor. Nerv-Worth has done everything."

Rev. H. Malone, Medaville, Pa.
"I have used Nerv-Worth in my family with the result that I am willing to give this testimonial, believing it will help the suffering wherever it is possible for Nerv-Worth to reach the case," said Rev. Malone. "I am doing this for the good of others, and in giving this testimonial to the effectiveness of Nerv-Worth, I have not been influenced by any argument for Nerv-Worth, doing what it claims. I am, in truth, as far as I can discern, speaking of the properties of Nerv-Worth."

Nerv-Worth does not contain any artificial stimulation to deceive the user. It acts in a sensible way through real medicinal value to give the desired results. Nothing could be more convincing than the letters from the ministers above. If you suffer, try Nerv-Worth. Give it a trial, and you will find that it will give results.
It is sold by the Connellsville Drug Co. and all leading druggists everywhere. Buy one bottle, use it according to directions, and if you do not feel that it is helping you, do not buy a second bottle, but ask for your money back.—Advertisement.

had no appetite, and couldn't sleep.
I was very nervous, and my Get from your druggist a 60-cent case of Papa's Diapespin. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fulness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, headache or intestinal griping. Pour to yourself in the minutes that you go back to a good as any, that there is nothing to be wrong. Stop this food fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion—Advertised.

"I'm dead on my feet," growled the commodore, and jumping into bed he refused to discuss the matter further and was sound asleep in a jiffy.

Mr. Gibney was up bright and early and around the yard—out to action! The tide would be at its lowest ebb at nine-thirty one and the commodore figured that his fortune would be lying well exposed on the Belkley tide.

He engaged a diver and a small gasoline-lunch and after an early breakfast in a chophouse on the Du Boscadero they started for the wreck.

They were within half a mile of it heading right into the eye of the wind when Captain Scraggs and McGuffey stood erect in the launch simultaneously and sniffed like a pair of well-seed dogs.

"Dead whale!" suggested McGuffey. "I hope it ain't Gib's fortune re-piled Scraggs dirty."

"Shut up, bellowed Mr. Gibney. He was scolding himself by this time for as the launch swiftly approached the docklet the unpleasant odor became more pronounced.

"Betcher that schooner was in collision with a steamer! Captain Scraggs announced. "She was cut down right through the forecastle with the watch below sound asleep on this here fragrance appeals to me as a sure sign of a job for the corner."

Mr. Gibney even dashed but he made no reply. They had rounded the schooner's stern now and her name was visible.

"Schooner Kadik Seafire," read Scraggs. "Little old three stoker a thousand years old, cut clear through just about the foremast. Mr. Gibney, you don't suppose this here's a pirate craft on just bulging with gold?"

"Glad to report the engineer with a slow-wink, tainted wealth."

Mr. Gibney could stand their hacking no longer. "Lousy here you two be havin' out angrily. I got a hunch to tack! the deal with' Nells if you two think I didn't do right by the syndicate a runnin' up a bill of expense to town this craft into port. I ain't goin' to stand for no middle even if it's six in the hundred dollar rowboat bill. Men is human and bound to make mistakes."

Don kid the commode we Scraggs. This notion o' roses is more a strong man can stand so cut out the job."

All right Mac. I guess the comodore's foot slipped this the but I don't squawk at it."

No. Not yet," cried Mr. Gibney bitterly but soon.

"I glad to see Captain Scraggs assume an air of injured virtue. I'm willing to go through with you Gib at least for nothin' else except to convince you of the folly o' makin' in this one man syndicate. I ain't a kickin' but I'm free to confess that I'd like to be consulted once in a while."

That's logic, rumbled the single minded McGuffey.

The dirty scorchers roared the comodore. "I ain't askin' you two to take chances with me. We an' Ne'll talk this deal over independent of the syndicate."

Well lets dress this here diver, retorted the cautious Scraggs—an' send him into the hold for a long, siesta before we climb up our mite to Captain Scraggs was not a man to take chance."

The moved the launch to the wreck and commenced operations. Mr. Gibney worked the air pump while the diver, ax in hand dropped into the dark depths of the flooded hole.

Easy to Set Stomach Right

If your stomach is out of order or distressed no medicine will what can be done to set it right?

The commodore shook hands cordially and departed followed by the faithful Nells Hulsonson. The moment the door closed behind them Scraggs turned to the engineer.

"Mac, he said earnestly. Gib's up to somethin'. He's got that imagination o' his workin'. I can tell it every time he gets a foggy look in his eyes. We made a mistake kidulin' him today. He's a sensitive boy some ways an' I reckon we hurt his feelings without intendin' it."

"Well, I'll apologize to him," de-cated Captain Scraggs and started

DUST SHOWN TO BE BENEFATOR

Bane of Housewife Plays Vital Part in Life.

CAUSE OF QUEER PHENOMENA

Dust Falls of the Ocean; Yellow Rain in the Yukon and Red Snows in Greenland and Other Arctic and Alpine Regions Among Freaks—Without Dust We Would Have No Rain and Coloring of Our Sunsets Would Be Almost Entirely Lost.

Washington, D. C.—"The falling of a thick coating of dust upon a steamer in the yellow sea and the attendant darkening of the atmosphere so that sailing was difficult, recently reported in news dispatches, is not such an uncommon occurrence in that part of the world, or even in mid ocean," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society from Washington, D. C. "Besides the dust fall on the ocean, while on the face of it seems a joke, there are sometimes yellow rains in the Yukon and red snows in Greenland and other arctic and alpine regions," the bulletin adds.

"The yellow rains, so called because the ground becomes covered with a peculiar fine yellow deposit, are usually found to be caused by the pollen of pine trees growing miles and miles away, which is caught up by the winds and carried until their fury has abated, and then dropped. The red snow" seen in the arctic is made by a wind-blown deposit of the moss-like Chlamydomonas, in the nuclei of which are red pigment spots. Other kinds of algae sometimes reproduce in such numbers that they form the greenish deposits seen in fresh water.

Beautiful Sunsets Due to Dust

"Just, however, that bane of the housekeeper and the curse of the automobile tourist, plays a vital part in our lives. Though it sometimes seems to suffocate us, without it we could have no rain, as the vapor would not condense, and without its power of reflection our daylight would not be so bright, and the coloring of our sunsets would be almost entirely lost."

"The loess of northern China, a fine yellow powder brought by the winds from the desert regions beyond, and deposited in places several hundred feet in thickness, has been piled for thousands of years, without any artificial fertilization and without signs of exhaustion. Beds of volcanic dust are to be found in Kansas and Nebraska today, in some places as much as 30 feet in thickness, though there were no volcanoes in the past and none at present within hundreds of miles of the deposits. The wind is the culprit or benefactor. The wind is

"blowers-out" in the middle of the Atlantic often have their sails red-dusted with dust blown from the Sahara, and sometimes the rains of southern Europe are colored by dust from the same source. In 1907 four days of March winds are believed to have spread over central Europe about 2,000,000 tons of Saharan dust, most of it falling south of the Alps, but some of it being carried as far as the Baltic sea.

"Wind-blown dust also gives rise to some interesting phenomena. When dust falls on glaciers or deposits of snow near the mountain tops, every dust particle meets its way through the ice, sometimes several inches in depth, and if there are a great many of these 'dust wells' the mountain climber must watch his steps. One was made of this knowledge by engineers in building snows, preliminary to the building of the New-Bergen railway in southern Norway. No Mountain Peaks Above 'Dust Zone.'

"It is probable that no mountain top is high enough above the earth to be entirely free from some dust, especially that thrown out during volcanic eruptions. In a great explosion, such as that of Krakatoa in 1883, dust is shot into the upper atmosphere rather than picked up by it. Dust particles from Krakatoa traveled around the world, some of it completing its first trip in 15 days. Before this giant shook the world with its mighty upheaving we were ignorant of the winds that circulated at over ten miles above the earth's surface. The dust so colored these upper reaches that early scientists were able to trace upon wind movements, to record them upon their charts, and to tell us that mighty air streams, blowing 20 miles above our heads,

"Long before meteorologists realized the part played by the dust in the upper atmosphere following volcanic explosions, they recorded its phenomenal and inexplicable certain dense, dry fogs, that neither abundant rains nor fierce winds drove away. Today we can easily explain that because we know that the 'fog' was really dust in the atmosphere high above the rain and wind clouds. In some places these 'fogs' made the sun invisible until it had risen high above the horizon and colored and reflected the light of the new moon until it appeared as bright as that of the full moon at midnight."

"Beneath the earth's surface the dust plays as fantastic a part as it does above it. In mines it increases incombustibility and assists in explosion of gases, which would otherwise be incombustible, probably acting in the same capacity as the catalytic agent in a chemical reaction."

Community's Archives

"Can you tell me the date the Baptist church burned—I mean, of course, the famous fire that gutted the old inhabitants talk about?"

The librarian looked up from her work. "No, I can't tell you the exact date, but I think I can find it for you quickly, for we have the file of the local paper since it was started. My impression is that it was about 1878, and it won't be a very long job to look it up."

She went to the stacks in the rear of the library, pulled out a dusty bound volume marked "Harold, 1873," and spread it open on the table. "Ah, here it is," she said, after a minute spent in turning over the yellow leaves. The person who had inquired for the date, a member of the woman's club of the town, sat down and read

OLD HOME TOWN PAPER TO HAVE A WEEK

Nation Wide Campaign Launched for November 7-12—Places in Community Life Emphasized.

November 7-12 has been set as "Old Home Town Paper Week," and this newspaper, together with the thousands of country newspapers, the United States press—there are not less than 18,000 of them, weekly and small dailies—is to participate.

The purpose of the campaign is not only to induce residents of the small communities and the home town folks who are far from their native health to subscribe to the home town paper, but also to emphasize the important place the home newspaper plays in the life of the community.

This campaign has the hearty support and cooperation not only of the newspapers but thousands of ministers and school principals, and many state agricultural colleges and farm and home bureau organizations.

Some persons, it is pointed out, have been inclined to belittle the place and function of the country newspaper. They have not realized that in reality the home paper is a community institution and that it enables the other institutions, such as the church and the school and all the rest to function better and more effectively. That it is a necessity if the town is to survive.

During the time between now and November 7-12, this newspaper in its columns will have much to say about the Home Town Paper—the home town paper in particular, but the home town paper the

The South Connellsville firemen have decided to hold their Halloween celebration on Thursday evening and will have a parade for the children and give them a treat of apples and doughnuts. There also are prizes for the best make-ups, these to be given out later.

Lily Campaign On.

The Captain's Athlete association has launched its campaign for the disposal of the large "lily" donated by P. Signorato and is meeting with good success. Two thousand tickets have been printed in book form, 25 in each book and are being distributed among the employees of the company, with instructions to get rid of them and come back for more. And this is exactly what they are doing, some having already disposed of two or more of the books. Albert Neschese, foreman of the alpining department, and Honoria Dugawa, assistant mechanic, each claim they can sell the most tickets and are picking out helpers. A free chance will be given to each person selling a book or the tickets.

The "lily" will be put on display sometime this week in the window of the Wright-Metzler company's store.

Coon Has Quintet Guests.

The members of the "Coon Run Quintet" were delightfully entertained at a dinner Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Evans at their home at Second street and Allegheny avenue. The quintet is composed of Joe Head, Ray Towsey, Russell Head, Tom Towsey and Edward Provance, all local boys who have a cabin in the mountains near Coon Run and play staying there all winter for the benefit of their health. They have formed an orchestra. In turn they gave a delightful concert at the Evans home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Evans, Harry Vernon, Stanley and Arthur Evans, Mildred Evans, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson was formerly Miss Ethel Evans.

Motorist Shuts Up.

W. C. Smith, cooperator for the Captain Glass company, had a very narrow escape from death Sunday afternoon when his automobile was crowded off the road and went over a cement culvert on the Lincoln highway near Greensburg. Smith was on his way to Greensburg when another car, attempting to pass him, crowded him off the road. The machine was considerably damaged. Mr. Smith was severely shaken up but otherwise uninjured. The car was towed into Greensburg.

New Working Schedule.

The Captain Glass company has started a new shift taking effect on last Sunday evening. It affects factory "Greener" and "Helpers" on the 11 to 7 shift, who are to report at 8 o'clock; operators and carrying-in boys at 9 o'clock; and John foreman at 9 o'clock, and selectors, back of the looms, at 10 o'clock.

Gibson High Wins.

CONFLENCE, Oct. 24.—Rev. Diemer of Claysdale was here Saturday on his way to Friendsville, Md.

Rev. J. M. Conroy, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church for the past year, who was returned here for another year by the annual conference, resumed his duties.

Mrs. Florence Cummings is able to go out and around again after a severe illness.

Pine-cough syrup, two combinations of which are "Vidol" bark and mulberry plum sugar syrup.

To make the best pine-cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of liquorice in a jar and add 1½ cups of dried mulberry sugar syrup. One can use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than enough for a day's supply. Burn the money. It is good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It is a sure remedy for a cold, or may be particularly good from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this medicine and syrup combination will do especially well for a cold, or for bronchial asthma, hayfever, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Vidol is a highly concentrated combination of pine and liquorice extract, and remains the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "Vidol" and "Vidol" with directions for use. It is a sure thing. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pixie Co., Elizabethtown, Ind.
